Keynote Speakers

Opening General Session
Thursday, November 21, 4:15 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.
State of the System

Eloy Ortiz Oakley

Chancellor, California Community Colleges

The California Community Colleges Board of Governors appointed Eloy Ortiz Oakley as chancellor for the California Community Colleges beginning December 19, 2016.

Eloy Ortiz Oakley is best known throughout California and the nation for implementing innovative programs and policies that help students succeed in college. Oakley strongly believes that California’s emerging economies demand a workforce with quality credentials and that the state’s 115 community colleges play a pivotal role in moving California forward. Under Oakley’s leadership, the Long Beach Community College District has received numerous awards and recognitions for its efforts to improve student completion rates and for directly supporting a strong small business and entrepreneurship eco-system throughout the greater Southern California region. Constance Iloh

Education Scholar and Researcher
Assistant Professor, University of California, Irvine
Dr. Constance Iloh is an award-winning education scholar, speaker, consultant, and researcher. Described as a “higher education powerhouse” by Diverse: Issues in Higher Education, Professor Iloh’s program of research explores educational opportunity and inequities; college access and choice; institutional culture; social context; and student experiences. Dr. Iloh, who currently serves as an assistant professor at the University of California-Irvine, is especially known for her work that investigates the college-going narratives and realities of underserved students in higher education as well work that examines for-profit colleges and community colleges. One of Professor Iloh’s most recent scholarly contributions is the Iloh Model of College-going Decisions and Trajectories, an innovative three-component ecological model that serves as an alternative to existing college choice frameworks. This model illuminates contemporary college decisions and educational narratives while also problematizing the notion of college choice. Her research and conceptual work has appeared in top education journals such as the American Educational Research Journal, Journal of Negro Education, Harvard Educational Review, and Teachers College Record. Dr. Iloh’s work has been cited in Forbes, Inside Higher Ed, The Chronicle of Higher Education, the Harvard Law Review, Politico, and National Public Radio- who profiled her as a national expert in naming her their source of the week. Iloh is a 2018-2019 recipient of the prestigious UC Hellman Fellowship, a highly competitive research grant bestowed upon professors showing great distinction in their field. Professor Iloh has been invited to share her work with the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for African Americans, the Institute for Higher Education, Telemundo, NBC Universal, and Michelle Obama’s Reach Higher Campaign. She made history as the first Black professor in the School of Education at UC Irvine. In 2016, Dr. Iloh became one of the few academics ever named to the change-agents and break-out stars of the Forbes “30 under 30” list. You can learn more about Dr. Constance Iloh and her work at www.constanceiloh.com.

General Session Luncheon
Friday, November 22, 12:30 p.m. – 2:15 p.m.

Leith Sharp
Director and Lead Faculty, Executive Education for Sustainability Leadership, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

A dynamic change leader with 25 years of practice, research and teaching, Leith has taught leadership for sustainability at Harvard University for 18 years, earning numerous commendations for distinguished teaching performance.

Leith founded the Executive Education for Sustainability Leadership program at Harvard in 2013, which she continues to lead. This cross-sectoral, residential leadership program brings sustainability leadership, human well-being, purpose, biomimicry, agility, integrated business models and organizational design together.
In 2017, Leith co-founded Leaders on Purpose to engage global CEOs in scaling a new leadership paradigm and business logic with the fitness to deliver on the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Global CEOs from Paypal, Siemens, Mastercard, Ikea, P&G, Sodexo, Danone, Mars, Best Buy, Phillips, SAP, BMW, L’Oreal and many more have contributed.

Leith is well known for founding Harvard’s Office for Sustainability, where over a period of 9 years she led Harvard to become a global leader in campus sustainability. In 2010, Leith became the founding executive director for the Illinois Green Economy Network, working with the state’s 40 college presidents to raise $24 million for green workforce development.

Leith has consulted with over 200 organizations and has received numerous awards internationally, including Young Australian of the Year, NSW Environment Category and a Churchill Fellowship. Leith has an environmental engineering degree (UNSW), a master of education (Harvard) and is currently completing a Master of Science in Biomimicry (ASU).

A Real Conversation on Homelessness in Higher Education

Panelists:

Pam Luster

President, San Diego Mesa College, Moderator

Dr. Pamela Luster is the President of San Diego Mesa College; she is in her 9th year. Previously she served as the Vice President of Student Services, Interim Vice President of Instruction and Dean of Academic Services at Las Positas College. At West Valley College she held the position of Dean of Career Education and Workforce Development and started her career as a faculty member in the Disabled Students program.

Dr. Luster service includes membership on several local, state and national boards to include: San Diego Youth Services (SDYS), San Diego Mesa College Foundation, California Community College Athletics Association, and on the American Association of Community Colleges Commission for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion. She currently still serves on the CEOCCC Board representing Region XI, and is co-chairing the CEOCCC Task Force on Affordability, Food and Housing. This year she is the Chair of the San Diego and Imperial Counties Community College Association. Dr. Luster is an adjunct faculty member at San Diego State University, Doctoral Program in Community College Leadership.

Dr. Luster’s scholarly and professional pursuits are focused on student equity, diversity and inclusion and building campus and community coalitions towards cultural proficiency and humility. She is committed to finding permanent solutions to address the basic needs of community college students.
Rashida Crutchfield

Associate Professor, California State University, Long Beach

Dr. Rashida Crutchfield is an assistant professor in the School of Social Work at California State University, Long Beach. She earned a Master of Social Work at the Brown School of Social Work at Washington University in St. Louis and her Doctorate in Educational Leadership from CSULB. She worked for the National Conference for Community and Justice in Long Beach and the American Civil Liberties Union of Eastern Missouri before serving on the Covenant House California staff. Experience at this Los Angeles shelter for 18-to-24-year-olds experiencing homelessness gave her insight into practice, building rapport and intervention with this population's strengths, needs and perspectives.

Dr. Crutchfield has been a faculty member in the CSULB School of Social Work since 2007 as field faculty and lecturer. She began as an assistant professor in 2014 with a focus on practice and research in youth homelessness, access to higher education, social and economic development, and social work community practice. She was the Principal Investigator for Phase I of the CSU Chancellor’s study on food and housing security, and Co-Principal Investigator for phases II and III. These studies are the largest of their kind.

Amy Costa

California Community College Board of Governor

Amy Costa was chief deputy director for budget at the California Department of Finance from 2016 to 2018, where she served as advisor to the director on higher education from 2014 to 2016. She was an account lead at Blue Beyond Consulting from 2012 to 2014 and director of state and local government relations at Safeway Inc. from 2010 to 2012. Costa served as associate director of advocacy and state relations at the California State University Chancellor’s Office from 2009 to 2010. She served as policy director in the Office of California State Senator Dean Florez from 2008 to 2009, as a policy consultant in the Office of California State Senate President pro Tempore Don Perata from 2005 to 2008 and district director in the Office of California State Senator Don Perata from 2001 to 2005.

Ruben Canedo

Director, Strategic Equity Initiatives at University of California, Berkeley

Ruben was born and raised in the border valleys of Mexicali, Imperial, and Coachella. Ruben is a recipient of UC Regents and Chancellor’s Full Scholarship and first-generation alumnus of UC Berkeley. Ruben’s academic coursework and publications focus on public higher education, equity, intersectionality, and systems change. Ruben serves as Director of Equity Initiatives within UC Berkeley’s Division of Equity & Inclusion. His responsibilities include college student basic needs, strategic planning, and mobilization. Ruben was appointed to the dual roles of Chair of the UC Berkeley Basic Needs Committee (2013) and Co-Chair of the UC Systemwide Basic Needs Committee (2014). These efforts focus on research, prevention, sustainability, and advocacy. His efforts have published studies on college student food insecurity and homelessness in higher education and have helped inform both state and federal policies. Additionally, Ruben facilitates keynotes and trainings on healing, life journeys, and maximizing performance.

Daisy Beltran

Student, Imperial Valley College

Daisy Gallegos Beltran is a 26-year-old homeless student who began her journey with Imperial Valley College at 21. She had little to no family support and struggled to find a safe and secure place to live. After receiving support from internal and external sources Daisy has continued her longtime dream and personal goals of obtaining an education. Daisy will soon graduate with an Associate’s degree in Communication Studies for Transfer and has been accepted into Columbia College where she will further her education and pursue a Bachelor’s degree in Communication.

Distinguished Alumni Award

The League has recognized the distinguished alumni of California’s community colleges since 1964. This prestigious award recognizes and honors the fine men and women whose attendance at a California community college helped them achieve their educational and professional goals and serve their communities. Nominees will be judged on their accomplishments in their chosen fields and for their community service. Nominees must have earned a minimum of 24 units in the community college.

Only one nominee will be selected as the Community College League’s Distinguished Alumnus/Alumnae.

The prestigious California Community College Distinguished Alumni Award will be presented on Friday, November 22nd, at the General Session Luncheon. Award recipients are California Community College alumni who are accomplished professionals and contributing citizens of their communities.

Thank you for your continued support of the League’s efforts to showcase the outstanding results of a California community college education. If you have any questions, please contact Jimmy Madrigal at jmadrigal@ccleague.org.
